DEDICATION

To one who himself graduated from Eastern Nazarene College, having among his honors election to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

To one who has served Eastern Nazarene College as Dean of Men, Director of Athletics, and Professor of Physical Education for 17 years.

To one who, after introducing intercollegiate basketball at Eastern Nazarene College, has filled the position of head basketball coach for 14 years without a losing season before 1966.

To one who has been described as a tall Kentuckian,
a warm-hearted Christian,
an outstanding coach,
a molder of men.

We the Staff of the 1970 NAUTILUS dedicate our annual to COACH CARROLL F. BRADLEY.

GENERALS

Crusaders

DEAR READER:

When we, the staff of the 1970 NAUTILUS, were attempting to select a theme for our annual that would best exemplify the life on our campus, we first tried to decide what the purpose of a yearbook should be. We decided that our yearbook should reflect the school year 1969-1970. And so we chose as our basic theme "Reflections". But then we thought about the manner in which our minds work when we reflect or remember. Actually, we do not remember things, events, or people as unities or wholes, but more as disjointed parts. Therefore, we added to our basic theme of "Reflections" the extended idea of "Fragments of Memories". The division pages that you see in your 1970 NAUTILUS are our concretion of this theme.

Later when we were looking for a cover design, we wanted one that would relate to our theme, "Fragments of Memories". And so we selected the design that you find on the cover. The three arrows, each going in a separate direction, represent fragmented memories and ideas expanding into several areas. But it is only in the center that we find something solid and unchanging, a unity in the cross. As we look back on the past year at E.N.C., fragments of memories and ideas take our minds into several directions. But only in our experience with Christ do we find a center, a point of reference to which we can relate all of our other memories and impressions.

Moments
"Time"

Life is here today — gone tomorrow
Days are important — yet they pass
Hours are important — yet they pass Moments are important — BUT . . .
A moment is all that is needed to—smile love cry create destroy invent

Time — a vast lot given to every being Yet moments so paramont — so important

I can recall many moments . . .
a tear in a friend's eye,
a smile on her face,
a consoling word,
a picture,
a dream

YET

I can also remember . . .
a talk a nightmare a joke a smudge
a tear

BUT WHY?

Why are moments so important?
They fly by — unnoticed at times — oblivious

Important? Yes —
Friendships are built on them
Love is growing during them
Knowledge is acquired during them
Fun is enjoyed during them
Pictures are drawn during them!

What is it then, that troubles me?
The moments one cannot live again
Changes that would be made.
Things done differently. No!

Today is all I have thousands of moments are mine—
Build
Love
Know Find
Share Give Be

"Live and Love Life"

The past is gone —
Time stopped.
The present is here —
Time running.
The future, yet to come —
Time eternal.

Amen

only pieces of it . . . only snatches that we remember . . . the minutes that were unimportant and the minutes that changed a life . . . moments of triumph and moments of defeat . . . times of concern and times when we thought only of ourselves . . . problems to solve—and long walks along the bay . . . half-whispered prayers in the dark . . . formals and corsages and candles . . . and people rehearsing . . . gym suits and ping pong tables . . . and cold showers in early hours . . .

FRESHMAN WEEK

Ah, just like home.

Brenda Sheldon makes her fiftieth trip into Munro.

Frosh girls gather to discuss discomforts inflicted by the sophomores.

The freshmen start their careers with tests, tests, and more tests.

Mary Mulkegian formulates her schedule with advisor Mrs. Kauffman.

Half of the week is spent just waiting.

FRESHMAN INITIATION PARTY

"It's always been my dream to marry a man who plays the piano." (Lynn Nelson as Lucy and Steve TenEyck as Schroeder)

"You could be king, Charlie Brown. If only you weren't so wishy-washy." (Bill Mauger as Charlie Brown)

"This is just the start you need to break this disgusting habit."

"It's my blanket and me." (Ron Allen as Linus)

OUR SOCIAL CHAIRMAN IN ACTION

Larry Yerdon as Snoopy.

"Behold, the brimming bowl of meat and meal."

"Pappy's little puppy loves everyone!"

"Suppertime. Yes, it's suppertime."

"Supper, super-pepper-upper . . . "

SOPHOMORES INITIATE FROSH

"It's naptime!" Sophomores Don Yerxa, Sara Andrews, and Dan Shea instruct the lowly Frosh in the proper mode of humility.

Bob Mollica bestows the crowning glory.

NURSERY WHINE

Little Boy Blue come blow your horn,
For this lowly frosh feeling so forlorn.
Pease-porridge hot, pease-porridge cold,
I wish I were a mighty soph so stalwart and bold.
But Georgy Porgy Puddin' an' Pie,
I'm only a frosh and it makes me cry.

The first official meeting of the Class of 1973.

REGISTRATION

Just the first of many.

Kappa President Don Thomas with members Barry Weiss and Greg Peck urges freshmen to fly with Kappa.

FOUNDERS' DAY

A Vision Shared

Founders' Day is a time for reminiscing, a day in which we recall past events and notable persons. Each generation has a responsibility to teach its youth the traditions and the achievements of the fathers. Throughout the Church of the Nazarene, people are examining the teachings of the founders to discover the principles by which they lived and died. Traditions, myths, and legends are preserved for the purpose of conveying values to posterity.

It is my hope that each of us will find in this chapel something of meaning for himself . . . I would pose some questions for each of us: Who am I? What am I doing here? Do I have a vision of E.N.C. which includes me? . . .

From "A Vision Shared," address delivered by Dr. James R. Cameron.

Dr. Mann speaks before chapel with Dr. Cameron, main speaker at the Founders' Day Convocation.

"Well, Mr. Lutes had this idea for gold brocade wallpaper in the . . . "

Professor Naylor leads the academic procession.

Distinguished trustees and faculty members take part in the procession.

EVANGELISTIC ASSOCIATION

The E.A.'s primary purpose has been to reach troubled lives with the Good News of God's love and forgiveness. This year we have worked in more than thirty communities, some as far away as Norfolk, Virginia. Our Columbia Point Project has served more than eighty inner-city children. We've sung the folk musical "Tell It Like It Is" in several denominations with great success. We've had a grea year working for Christ!

STUDENT MISSION CORPS

The Student Mission Corps is a dynamic program which involves interested Nazarene college students in the work of our church's World Missions Department. The 41 SMC'ers in 1969 assisted our missionaries in 13 different countries. They participated in varied activities such as teaching English, babysitting missionary children, painting mission buildings, rebinding books for Bible Institute libraries, nursing in small clinics, playing sports and holding services with national people. The important aspect of SMC is the opportunity it provides for SMC'ers to share experiences and God's love with friends made during their summer in another country.

World Student Outreach Society was organized this year with about 90 members. Our purpose was to acquaint interested students with the cause of missions around the world. This year's missionary project was to raise $1500 for a parsonage in San Salvador, El Salvador. We also helped to sponsor one of our members on Student Mission Corps.

Take a good long look at this picture. This w E.N.C.'s first winning soccer team, a team that believed itself and proved its ability. The man at the left is Coa Robert Jack. He came from Scotland with a burr in h throat so thick you could see it and a zest for winni soccer games that imbred itself in the players. Rememb how this team won its last two games in a row to achie that winning season at 7-6. Most of all remember that was the blending of the coach and the team that made happen. The taste of victory was sweet and it was a gre way to start off E.N.C.'s 1969-70 sport season. R

The basketball season was bracketed by a pair of Bradleys. At one end of the spectrum was Coach Carroll Bradley, retiring after 17 years as E.N.C.'s basketball coach. Those 17 years made him one of the best small college basketball coaches in New England. At the other end of the spectrum was Ron Bradley, coach's son and his pride and joy. As an 18 year old sophomore, Ron became an N.A.I.A. All-American, while exploding for 827 points at a 30.8 point per game clip, and brought his two year total to 1,129 points. His exceptional play, coupled with fine team play, brought E.N.C. its best season in five years at 11-16. Remember Ron's fine 45 point game against Gordon and remember our heart-breaking loss to Barrington at the King's Tournament. Remember 1969-1970 Crusader basketball as Ronnie Bradley's first big step toward the top.

MEN'S VARSITY BASEBALL

In 1970, E.N.C.'s baseball record shrank to 9-8-1; yet this team had nothing to be ashamed of as it brought E.N.C. its fifth-straight winning season. The season was highlighted by the powerful hitting of sophomore Doug Sorenson who hit .366. It was also highlighted by the fine pitching of sophomore John Whitman, whose 4-3 record belies the fact that he had a glittering E.R.A. of 1.28. Defensively, outfield Don Kauffman stole the show with brilliant running catches and long accurate throws to the plate. Remember the 1970 baseball season as the year of no spring training and no post-seasonal play-offs. One might just have been the result of the other.

Address to the Trustees

entlemen:

Forty-five years ago next September I climbed into a Model T" Ford with my father and my uncle (The Reverend Henry ebbins) and started out for college. My father had promised e if I attended ENC for two years, I could thereafter transfer the state university. However, there was never any further scussion of transfer for, after one month, I was "hooked" on NC for life!

It is impossible in a few moments to summarize the events of lifetime. Neither is it necessary for me to repeat what most of ou have heard me relate on other occasions. Suffice it to say at during my undergraduate years I committed my life com-etely to Christ and sought His guidance for the direction my e was to take. And one night while standing in the rear of the anterbury Chapel, I knew that my task was to serve ENC.

My first assignment was to be dean of men and teacher of athematics while, at the same time, carrying on graduate work. In the intervening years I have held most of the administrative posts here at the college with the exception of that of dean of women.

My schooling under Presidents Floyd W. Nease and R. Wayne Gardner, and the years as assistant to the president under President G.B. Williamson, and vice-president under President Samuel Young were invaluable in preparing me for my latest and longest assignment. These past twenty-two years have been exciting, arduous, fulfilling and brief!

ENC has not only provided me with a career, she has given me a family. As you know, my wife and four sons are also graduates of ENC. Back there when I was married—thirty-eight years ago—I considered myself very fortunate, but, frankly, I had little conception of just how fortunate I was. My work for ENC has kept me on the road and away from home so much that the burden of raising four sons fell almost exclusively on my wife. To have her come through so successfully, without building up an antipathy for the place ENC held in my affections, is a tribute to her own appreciation of ENC. And both of us will always be grateful to ENC for providing us with four lovely daughters-in-law whom we love as our own.

My relationship with ENC has been in the nature of a love affair. Throughout the years I have learned to know her well, and she, in turn has learned to know me and to put up with my idiosyncrasies. I am not here today to sever that relationship. I am here, however, to resign as president of the college and to enter into a new relationship with ENC as executive secretary of the Department of Education of our Church. It is not impossible that I may be able to do as much for ENC in the years ahead in this new assignment as I would if I were to continue in my present position. This change should take place August 1, 1970.

You can imagine that I have done considerable soul-searching during these past few weeks since I knew that I was being discussed for this post. When Dr. Eugene L. Stowe informed me that I was under consideration, I warned him that I was not a good prospect and that they should nominate someone who might be available for the job. Since the election, as I have prayed about it and thought about it, however, I have come to the conclusion that I should accept. Numerous events and situations, both personal and relating to the college, have convinced me that this is the right thing for me to do. I feel, very keenly, that if it is "right" for me, it will also be "right" for ENC.

I expect it will be a much more excruciating experience than I can possibly anticipate in advance. My roots are so deep and my associations so pleasant and so long-standing that there are bound to be some rough times before the change is effected. Because of this I am relieved that I feel so certain as to the course I should take.

I cannot conclude without expressing my appreciation to you, the members of the board, for your constantly increasing concern for the welfare of ENC. These past few years the problems have been intricate and intensive. The more I have called upon you, the more you have responded. I feel sure you recognize that the success of ENC in the years immediately ahead depends even more on you than it does on the man whom you will name to be my successor. I pray that God will give you great wisdom in making this choice and in facing, with him, the challenges and demands of the tomorrows.

Respectfully Submitted,
Edward S. Mann, President

The Student Council presents the Manns with a pair of lamps for their new home.

Dr. Mann expresses his appreciation to the student body not only for their gift but for their kindness.

Miss Munro reads a tribute to Mrs. Mann at a special banquet given by the ENC Women.

"For your humble service we thank you." (Rev. Goslaw, Chairman of the Board of Trustees)

Gifts to last a lifetime.

Dr. Mann will leave in a much different vehicle than the Model "T" Ford in which he arrived at E.N.C. forty-five years ago.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

WHO'S WHO CRITERIA

Each year an equal number of students and faculty members select those Seniors who best qualify for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The faculty members of this committee are chosen by the Dean of Students, and the student members are chosen by the President of the Student Council. Nominations are made by this committee using the following criteria: scholarship, leadership, participation in academic and extracurricular activities, service to the school, and promise of future successfulness and usefulness to society. From the list of nominees, committee members elect, by ballot, those students who are to be recommended to the National Committee. We congratulate the seventeen students who represent our school in this elite society.

"Lord and Saviour, true and kind,
Be the Master of my mind;
Bless and guide and strengthen still All my powers of thought and will Striving, thinking, learning still,

Let me follow thus Thy will,
Till my whole glad nature be Trained for duty and for Thee."
